Welcome Comment

Happy Wednesday everyone! Half way through the week again!
Thanks for all of your hard work so far, you are doing a great job. If you're running out of ideas for things to do to stay active, check out our school website in the online learning, whole school resources, staying active section for loads of ideas from our fabulous Mrs Oakley. If you find something that you have loved doing, let me know so I can try it out too! ☺

English Task

In this section of the book, it is confirmed that Zero was the one who stole the sneakers that Stanley was accused of stealing.
I would like for you to write the story of Zero stealing the shoes.
Include what you know about Zero and what impact this had on his decision to steal the shoes.

Maths Task

Another cross number for you to try today, but today's cross number is coded and focuses on multiplication! Again, you will need paper to show your working out. Make sure that you are reading the questions carefully and make sue that you put them in the right place! Good luck and enjoy! ☺

Foundation Subject Task

Today I would like for you to get involved with some whole school challenges. Firstly, there is this week's photography challenge set by Mrs Fassnidge. The theme for this week's photo is illusion – can you find a way to create an amazing optical illusion with the picture you take? Have a look at our school website in the whole school resources - general for even more information and some pictures for inspiration and remember there is a £10 prize for the winner!
Mrs Oakley has also set us our virtual school games challenge today. This one is based around agility and running. I believe this is the virtual games challenge so it would be amazing to get as many of you involved as possible. For more details go to our school website and look at whole school resources – staying active to find out exactly what you have to do!

Any Further Guidance

I hope that you have had a great day and have enjoyed completing your tasks. Make sure you have been keeping on top of your reading and if you have any great recommendations send them over to me and Mrs Salisbury – we love a good book!
Take care,
Miss McGowan ☺
