English

This half term we will listen to new stories such as Zog, The Gruffalo, The Room on the Broom and many more written by Julia Donaldson. We will begin to write in sentences about these stories and discuss the different characters in detail. The children will continue to learn their Read, Write Inc letters sounds and have a go at using these sounds in their writing.

Maths

Now that we can count with confidence, we are going to have a go at counting more efficiently. We are going to begin estimating numbers and then counting accurately. We will also begin to count in 2s and when appropriate, 5s and 10s too.

During our story time sessions, our class have been very enthusiastic about the author, Julia Donaldson. We have so many favourites already that we cannot wait to explore them in more detail, by looking at the settings and different characters, to inspire, excite and engage our writing.

Physical Development

In our PE sessions we are going to be exploring the different ways that our bodies move whilst climbing on and off, over, under and through using the apparatus. We will discuss the importance of keeping active and the effects of exercise on our bodies.

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

Most of the stories that we read show us that there are good characters and bad characters. We will be discussing these character traits and talk about why it is important to keep to rules and try to be good.

Understanding of the World

We are going to be looking for changes in our immediate environment as we look for signs of Spring. We will talk about how things grow and what they need to continue to grow. We will also be looking at the frogs in our forest pond and watch as they lay frogspawn and begin their journey along the life cycle of a frog.

Communication and Language

We will be retelling our stories using puppets to help us. We will remember the main events of the stories and use the puppets to perform to our friends.

Expressive Arts and Design

This half term we are going to focus on making simple representations of objects and characters. We will do this with different media including pencils, crayons and paints to develop our observational drawing skills.
