Welcome Comment

Good morning Year Six and welcome to a brand-new week! You should by now have received your fantastic new resource pack from school. This pack will enable us to do even more high-quality challenges throughout the coming weeks of lockdown, and I, as I am sure you are, am immensely grateful to Miss Crawley and Mrs Weatherby for making this happen. It will also mean we can finish "Journey to the river sea" together, which is something I am really looking forward to. Please ensure you look after this pack and use it effectively to complete your tasks.

English Task

For today's English task, I would like you to grab your Journey to the river sea text and remind yourself of where we got to in the story so far. (I will be doing the same so I could do with some email reminders 😊).

When you have done that, get a lined piece of paper and write down everything you can remember about the story so far. Send me a photo of your work if you can and make sure you keep it safe once you have completed it as it will really help with upcoming tasks.

Maths Task

I would like you to Log in to Times Tables Rockstar's <https://trockstars.com/> and complete work on your times tables for 15 minutes.

In your pack from school, you will have received a 9-sided dice. I would like you to create some questions for 5-digit addition and subtraction questions for yourself using the die, as we have done before in class. As an added challenge, when subtracting, put a zero or two in your top line to ensure you have to exchange.

Foundation Task

We are continuing with our art topic. Today we are looking at the middle ground in a piece of art inspired by the artist Henri Rousseau, following on from the foreground lesson last week. If you have wanted to learn how to draw a big, hairy monkey- then today is your lucky day 😊.

Rousseau's jungle: drawing the middle ground. Follow the tutorial as last week, pause as you go along – just like we do in art lessons at school. Keep your work if you can.

The most important thing is – have fun and enjoy being creative!

Any Further Guidance

I hope you enjoy today's activities, look out tomorrow for some pre-learning tasks that will help you with our virtual Geography trip on Wednesday.

Stay safe, Mr Salisbury.
