

Where to go for help with staying safe online.

It's times like these that the Internet can be a real-life saver. It is proving to be invaluable for our children to continue their education and keep in touch with their friends through the many social networking sites.

With this in mind, we felt it was important to send out some support for you as parents and carers on supporting your children in navigating the Internet safely.

<https://www.nspcc.org.uk> - It can be hard to know how to talk to your child about online safety. From setting up parental controls to advice on video app and online games, they can help you to understand the risks and keep your child safe.

<https://www.saferinternet.org.uk> - You don't need to be an expert on the internet to help your child stay safe online. This websites advice and resources are here to support you as you support your child to use the internet safely, responsibly and positively.

<https://www.childline.org.uk> - Having a mobile phone and going online is great for lots of reasons. But it's important to be aware of the dangers too. Learn how to stay safe online.

<https://www.thinkuknow.co.uk/> - Thinkuknow is the education programme from NCA-CEOP, a UK organisation which protects children both online and offline. Explore one of the six Thinkuknow websites for advice about staying safe when you're on a phone, tablet or computer.

<https://www.childnet.com/> - Childnet's mission is to work in partnership with others around the world to help make the internet a great and safe place for children.

We work directly with children and young people from the ages of 3 to 18 on a weekly basis, as well as parents, carers, teachers and professionals, finding out about their real experiences online, and the positive things they are doing as well as sharing safety advice.
