Welcome Comment

Morning! Today Year 5 I would like for you to start your day with positive thoughts. Even though things have been a little bit different recently, I would like you to think of some of the things that you are grateful for. Maybe it's being able to go and walk in the sunshine, spending time reading a good book, cuddling your pets, or even spending time with a brother or sister! Take a moment to reflect on all of the good things, you'll be surprised how it affects your day! ☺

English Task

Today, I would like for you to read chapters 16, 17 and 18. They are only short chapters so don't panic! After, I would like for you to have a go at answering the following questions. Remember to use the text for evidence and write your answers in full sentences.

- 1.) Find a word on Page 80 that means 'very'.
- 2.) Why does Sachar use the word 'supposedly' on Page 77?
- 3.) How does the warden's mood change over these chapters?
- 4.) How did you feel when Zero asked Stanley to teach him how to write? Did this change your impressions of Zero's character?
- 5.) Why does Stanley laugh at the letter he receives?
- 6.) Predict what will happen if/when the warden finds out the tube didn't come from X-Ray's hole.

Maths Task

Today will be our last mental maths challenge of the week! As with the other tasks, the questions will be sent along with the email and will be available on the school website. Some of you have been sending over your scores throughout the week and you have been doing amazingly well! Keep it up! Give it your best shot and good luck! ☺

Foundation Subject Task

Today I would like for us to focus on kindness. This activity is taken from our website in our Thrive activities area. It's been a tricky few weeks and if you're like me, you might have been missing seeing some of your friends and family. So today, I would like for you to think of someone who you have missed recently and write them a letter that you can either ask your grown up to post or that you can give to your person when you finally get to see them. ☺

Any Further Guidance

Well done for all your great work this week and for all of your emails. It's always great to hear from you. Keep up the good work, one more day and then half term break Year 5. Keep being fabulous,

Miss McGowan ☺
