Welcome Comment

Year 5! It's Friday! Another week has flown by and well done because you have produced some lovely work!

To get us motivated this morning, here is a Go Noodle dance to one of my favourite assembly songs! Enjoy and have fun ☺

English Task

Today, I would like for you to read chapters 19, 20 and 21. In chapter 19, the boys do something that's rather naughty and once again, Stanley is in the wrong place at the wrong time. I would like for you think about and then record your thoughts on the following questions.

- 1.) What would be the consequences for Stanley of lying or telling the truth about this incident?
- 2.) Which do you think is more important – being honest or being loyal to your friends?
- 3.) What would you have done in that situation? Explain your reasons.

Maths Task

Today our maths task is a little different. It's called 'Maths About Me!'

To start with, draw a picture of yourself or use a photo for the middle of your work. Around the outside I would then like you to think about the maths that makes up you. For example, how old are you? But then, because we are in Year 5, instead of just writing your age in years, how many days would that be? Maybe even hours? You could include your height, shoe size, how many teddies you have – anything! But the challenge is to think about how you can display your numbers in interesting ways. Maybe you could look at height in feet and inches as well as metres and centimetres or create calculations that need to be solved to show your number. Get creative and challenge yourself. I think you will be surprised at just how many numbers make you, you!

Foundation Subject Task Today is our last day of tasks before half term, so today my foundation task for you is a little bit different as you won't be able to complete it this afternoon! In fact, it might take you all week! Have a look at this grid from our school website: <https://www.suttonparkrsa.co.uk/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/Family-Well-being-Grid-1.pdf>

I would like for you to think about which activities you would like to have a go at. Then I would like you to think about the grid as if it is a Bingo grid – see how many activities can you tick off throughout half term – starting today! Maybe you could keep a diary or journal to record the activities you did or take photographs.

I hope you have fun! I'm starting this afternoon with karaoke! ☺

Any Further Guidance

Thank you again for all of your emails this week. I hope that during this half term week, you take time to relax, have some fun and recharge your batteries. Remember, that this is an unusual situation for us all, so try - as much as you can - to help your grown-ups out. Be kind, take care and stay safe and I will be back in touch soon.
